After August success, new bag policy here to stay

Throughout the month of August, MECA asked CenturyLink Center Omaha guests to adhere to a new, smaller bag policy to increase event security while improving entry line efficiency.

With the help and cooperation of concertgoers, security moved quickly and effortlessly with little to no interruption.

Due to that success, MECA will continue to practice smaller bag procedures for scheduled September shows and until further notice. Most immediately that includes WWE Monday Night RAW on Sep. 4, and the Ed Sheeran concert on Sep. 12, and the Tim McGraw, Faith Hill SOUL2SOUL Tour on Sep. 22.

Here's a reminder of the current bag policy:

- Small or clutch-sized purses or wallets ONLY, measuring 4.5 inches by 6.5 inches maximum
- No large purses or bags will be permitted
- MECA staff-members are not allowed to hold bags during a show
- Bags with medical necessity require special accommodations

Ticketholders are also reminded to arrive early to prepare for enhanced security screenings. WWE Monday Night RAW doors open at 5:00 p.m., with the show beginning at approximately 6:30 p.m.
